Furthermore you can optionally activate markers representing the D/T-rating of the cache (see map content settings. TSuch marker consists of two half circles, where the filling state of the left half represents the D-rating and the filling state of the right half represents the T-rating. This allows you to easily estimate the approximate D/T on each cache shown on map without the need to open the cache details.

The more each half is filled and the more it changes from green over yellow to red, the higher the respective rating. The following table provides some examples of D/T-rating representation:

Marker	Difficulity	Terrain
	2.0	5.0
	3.0	1.0
	4.0	2.5
