Primeiros passos no c:geo

Para utilizar o c:geo, será necessário uma conta numa plataforma geocaching. Neste momento, o c:geo suporta o geocaching.com, uma plataforma comercial internacional, assim como plataformas Opencaching em diversos países (por exemplo, Opencaching USA, Opencaching UK e muitas mais). Selecione a plataforma que pretende usar e crie uma conta na sua página (Contas básicas normalmente são gratuitas).

Sem uma conta numa destas plataformas de geocaching o c:geo não irá funcionar!

Registar o c:geo com o geocaching.com

Quando aberto pela primeira vez após a instalação, o c:geo vai abrir automaticamente as definições de serviços onde poderá introduzir o nome de utilizador e a senha que utiliza no geocaching.com.

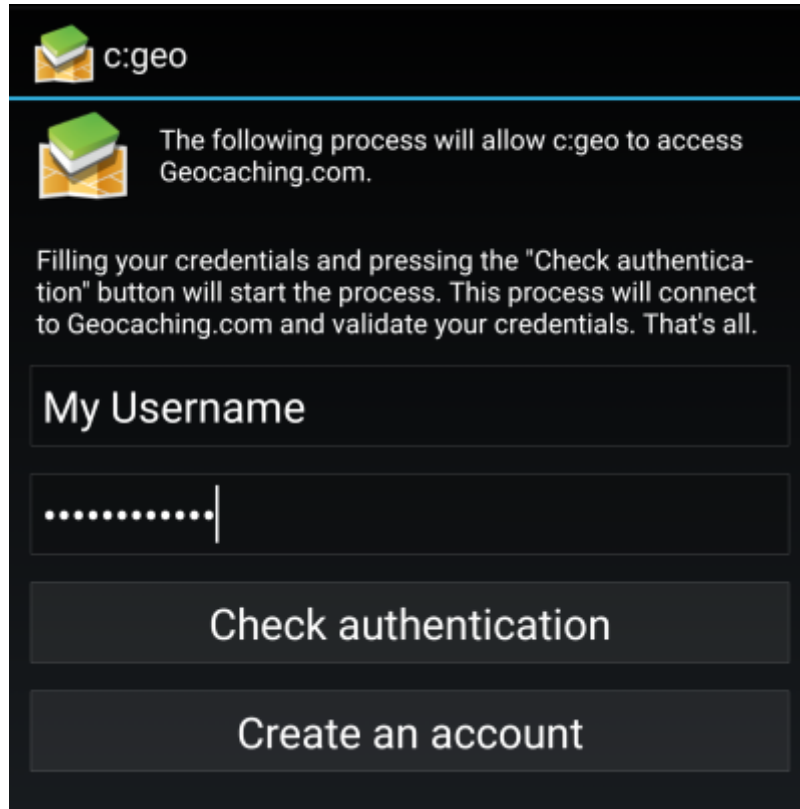

Se for necessário aceder, mais tarde, a estas definições de serviço para o geocaching.com, poderá encontrá-las em:

Menu → Definições → Serviços → Geocaching.com

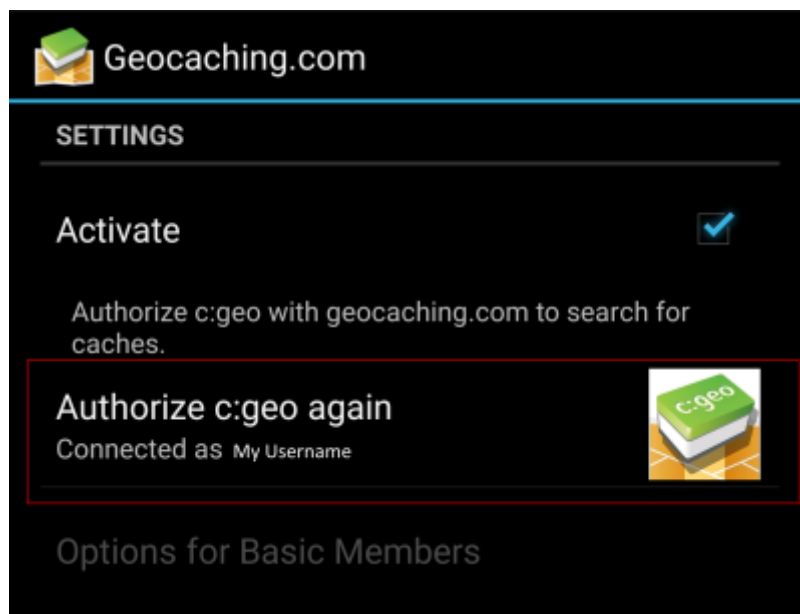

Carregue no botão Autorizar o c:geo como mostrado em baixo::

After clicking on Authorize c:geo a window will be shown, where you can enter your username and password for geocaching.com and finally click on Check authentication.
If you do not yet have an account, you may click on the button Create an account to open the registration page of geocaching.com.

After completing the registration, c:geo will automatically return to the service menu and you can see the successful registration as your username and your avatar will be shown:

 If the registration fails, please take a look in our FAQ to get help.

Now you just have to select the back function on your device to reach the main menu of c:geo. At next start of c:geo you will be automatically taken to the main menu.

Registering c:geo with Opencaching platforms

If you want to connect c:geo with another service than geocaching.com or re-access the service settings, you will find them in:

Menu → Settings → Services

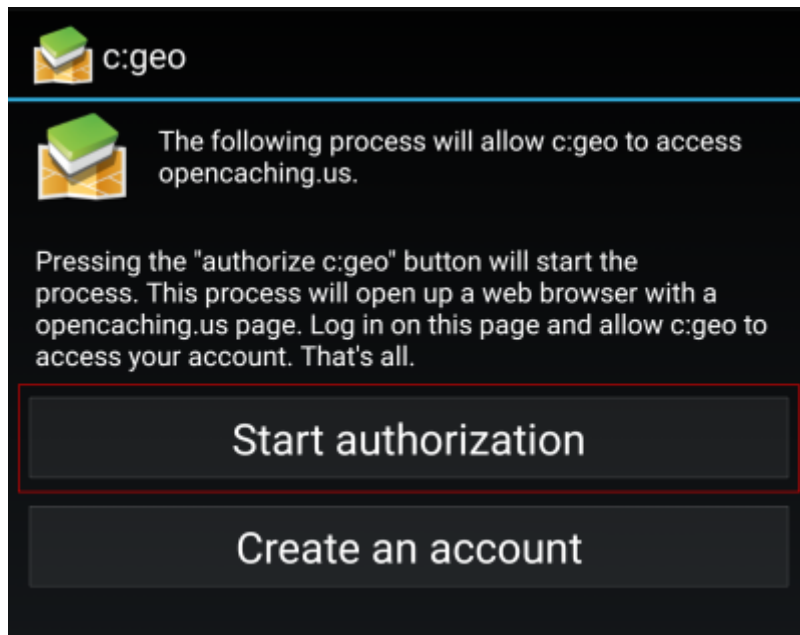

You can find more information regarding the geocaching services supported by c:geo here.

Select a geocaching platform, which you want to connect with and activate the service in the following screen by clicking the Activate box. Afterwards start the authorization process by clicking on Authorize c:geo.

and Start authorization in the next screen. If you do not yet have an account, you may click on the button Create an account to open the registration page of the Opencaching platform.

You will now be taken to the web page of the Opencaching platform in your browser. Login to the web page with your username and password and - where required - agree on the following page to give c:geo access to your Opencaching account.

After completing the registration c:geo should open again and report the successful registration:

 If you receive an error message or you do not return to c:geo, please try to use another browser for registration. Please also check, if date and time on your device are correctly set.
